

Acknowledgments

I WOULD LIKE TO EXPRESS my gratitude to the following librarians and archivists who made the writing of this book a much easier task. The staffs of the Anderson Library of the University of Houston, the Rosenberg Library at Galveston, and the San Jacinto Museum of History were most courteous in their service and interest. Miss Llerena Friend, librarian of the Eugene C. Barker Texas History Center of the University of Texas Library; Mrs. Bertha Brandt, assistant archivist of the Archives Division of the Texas State Library; Mr. Richard Ducote of the Houston Public Library; and Mrs. Lorraine Gresham of the Fondren Library at Rice Institute, have also been helpful in making research materials available.

My greatest debt is to Dr. William H. Masterson of Rice Institute. He suggested the topic, directed the study in its original form as a doctoral thesis in history at the Rice Institute, and reread portions of the manuscript. Dr. Masterson has continued to give graciously of his time and advice, and my thanks are due to him and to my parents.

STANLEY SIEGEL

Houston, Texas
March, 1956

