

Contents

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Preface | ix |
| 1. Introduction | i |
| 2. An Overview | 10 |
| 3. Fieldwork | 27 |
| 4. Historical and Anthropological Overview | 38 |
| 5. Deep Rural Economy: Multiple Livelihood Strategies in "The Country" | 57 |
| 6. Multiple Livelihood Strategies in the Shallow Rural Area | 71 |
| 7. The Structure of a Regional Marketplace System | 87 |
| 8. Using the Periodic Marketplace System | 103 |
| 9. Generating Cash: Families, Factories, and Multiple Livelihood Strategies | 116 |
| 10. The Breakdown of Multiple Livelihood Strategies | 131 |
| 11. Conclusion: Livelihood Processes That Cross Boundaries | 138 |
| Appendix. The Vendor Population at the Redside Market: A Sample | 149 |
| Notes | 153 |
| Bibliography | 157 |
| Index | 171 |

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Photographs | following page 37 |
| Figures | |
| 1. Sketch Map of Shallow Rural Hamlet | 73 |
| 2. Irene Smith's Family Network | 80 |
| Tables | |
| 1. Population of 10-County Region | 50 |
| 2. Per Capita Income in the 10-County Region | 51 |
| 3. Monthly Family Budget: Ilene and Harry | 82 |
| 4. Extensive Use of Periodic Marketplace System | 106 |
| A.1. Frequency of Males and Females by Age Range for Five Market Days | 150 |
| A.2. Intergenerational Cooperation in Booths at Redside Market | 151 |
| A.3. Percentage of Males and Females by Age Range for Five Market Days | 151 |