All of the chapters previously commissioned for publication or presentation as lectures have undergone changes to some extent, some to a considerable extent. “Anticipation of a Final Reckoning” was first published in Facta Philosophica, vol. 4, no. 1 (2002), pp. 51–66. “Materialism by Less than Adequate Means” was first presented as the Marx W. Wartofsky Lecture (2001) at the City University of New York, New York City; a shortened version was also presented at the Academy of Sciences in Moscow, Russia, Spring 2000. It has appeared, in a Russian translation, in Voprosi Filosofii (2002) and, in English, in Idealistic Studies 32, no. 3 (2002): 1–19. “Incommensurability Modestly Recovered” was first presented in a conference, “Incommensurability (and Related Matters),” at the University of Hannover, Hannover, Germany, Summer 1999. “Restoring the Bond between Realism and Truth” and “The Unraveling of Scientism” have previously appeared only as part of the Spanish translation of the full text of The Unraveling of Scientism (Oviedo: Nobel Ediciones, 2002).
