

Contents

Sign language research, uses and practices: A Belgian perspective Laurence Meurant, Aurélie Sinte, Myriam Vermeerbergen and Mieke Van Herreweghe	1
Sign language and spoken language development in young children: Measuring vocabulary by means of the CDI Bencie Woll	15
The influence of social discourses concerning deafness on the interaction between hearing mothers and deaf infants: A comparative case study Kimberley Mouvet, Liesbeth Matthijs, Gerrit Loots, Martine Van Puyvelde, and Mieke Van Herreweghe	35
The interpreter's stance in intersubjective discourse Terry Janzen and Barbara Shaffer	63
“You get that vibe”: A pragmatic analysis of clarification and communicative accommodation in legal video remote interpreting Jemina Napier	85
(Deaf) Interpreters on television: Challenging power and responsibility Maartje De Meulder and Isabelle Heyerick	111
Sign language representation: New approaches to the study of Italian Sign Language (LIS) Giulia Petitta, Alessio Di Renzo, Isabella Chiari, and Paolo Rossini	137
Epistemological issues in the semiological model for the annotation of sign languages Marie-Anne Sallandre and Brigitte Garcia	159
A corpus-based approach to manual simultaneity Anna Sáfár and Onno Crasborn	179

Contents

Expression of time in French Belgian Sign Language (LSFB) Aurélie Sinte	205
Impersonal reference in Catalan Sign Language (LSC) Gemma Barberà and Josep Quer	237
Morphosyntactic variation in American Sign Language: Genre effects on the usage of SELF Erin Wilkinson	259
Methodological issues in studying sign language variation Ceil Lucas	258
Contributors	309
Index of sign languages	313
Subject index.....	314