

Contents

Foreword — v

Eugene Green and Charles F. Meyer*

Introduction — 1

Part 1

Methodological issues in distinguishing varieties

Caroline R. Wiltshire

New Englishes and the emergence of the unmarked — 13

Kirk Hazen

Methodological choices in language variation analysis — 41

Christian Mair

Globalisation and the transnational impact of non-standard varieties — 65

Gerald Nelson

The circle of English:

an exploration of the “core” and “periphery” of world Englishes — 99

Part 2

Studies of features in particular contexts

Rajend Mesthrie

A robust, living substratum: contact and sociolinguistic factors in the evolution of a variety of Black English in Kimberley, South Africa — 127

Zhiming Bao

Got in Singapore English — 147

* The editors have written a set of contextual statements, one each placed after a chapter.

Lars Hinrichs

Diasporic mixing of World Englishes:
the case of Jamaican Creole in Toronto — 169

Sali A. Tagliamonte

System and society in the evolution of change: the view from Canada — 199

Charles F. Meyer

A diachronic study of pseudo-titles and related appositives in the press reportage of British and American newspapers — 239

Eugene Green

The Diffusion of I need you to + infinitive in world Englishes — 257

Index — 285