

Your contribution

We greatly appreciate the time and effort given by reviewers in evaluating papers for publication in our journal. Thanks to your contribution, Cellular & Molecular Biology Letters authors receive fast, fair and comprehensive review.

Our standards

- our reviewers are kindly requested to deliver reports in 3-4 weeks
- communications are published in 6 weeks from receipt, research and review papers in 8-9 weeks, unless they have needed major revision by authors
- research articles and communications are reviewed by a minimum of two reviewers, review papers by at least three
- we pay special attention to receive unbiased, fair opinions; special policies govern allocation of reviewers to articles
- whenever submissions qualifies for publication but needs revision, reviewers are asked to give comprehensive opinion on necessary improvements
